

AIRSHIP ROMA FALLS AFLAME NEAR NORFOLK

Captain Maybree, Commander of Airship, One of 35 Dead

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 21—The dirigible Roma exploded at 2 p. m. today with a loss of 28 lives of the 38 men the ship carried. Only ten were rescued. All the rescued were badly injured and have been removed to the army base hospital.

Captain Perishes

Captain Maybree, in command of the ship, was among those burned to death. The ship carried a crew of 38 men when it left Langley field. The rudder broke as it circled over the army base and the bag descended slowly to the earth and struck the ground. The bag was enveloped in flames.

Can't Approach It

The intense heat of the flames rendered rescue work impossible and until the fire is extinguished it will not be possible to bring out the dead.

Bought in Italy

The Roma was purchased by the United States government from the Italian government. It was brought to this country aboard ship, after the disaster to the dirigible ZR2, purchased from Great Britain, and which exploded over the city of Hull in England. The huge airship was making a series of test flights. It had planned to make a tour of the whole United States, and an attempt was to be made by the Roma to smash the world's record speed with a dirigible. Langley field officials expected the ship to make 90 miles an hour on the trip. The accident took place two hours after the ship left her hangar at Langley field.

Helium Taken Out

The Roma has just been emptied of helium gas, which is non-explosive and not inflammable. The ship contained all the helium in the country. Naval authorities ordered it taken from the bag and stored, and ordinary field gas, as used in balloon inflation was substituted. The operation of the change in gas was completed Saturday.

Had Liberty Motors

Today's flight was the first one taken with Liberty motors. The new power plant was installed at Washington where the ship was christened. The Italian engine refused to function properly in cold weather and it was taken out in December and the Liberties put in its place.

Second in Six Months

The disaster to the Roma is the second that has overtaken an airship built for the United States by a foreign government in six months. The ZR2, built for this country by Great Britain, which exploded at Hull, England, on August 25, 1921, cost of lives of 62 men. There were 60 on board when the huge ship exploded, and four survived. At the time of the ZR2 disaster, the Roma was still under the course of construction. Both the Roma and the ZR2 were the outgrowth of the German zeppelin type of airship. The Roma, however, was much smaller than the ZR2. Her gas volume was 1,300,000 cubic feet while that of the ZR2 was 2,750,000 cubic feet.

Thirty-five men were killed when the Roma exploded on Hampton Roads, the navy department advised in a radio message from the naval operating base at Hampton Roads. Explodes 1,000 Feet Up

The big ship exploded when about 1,000 feet above the ground, the report stated. As the mass of wreckage fell to the ground and the ship fell later, it was almost a mass of flames.

OPERATORS INVITED TO PAY CONFERENCE

Lewis Wants a Chance to Get Together and Settle All Existing Disputes

Chicago, Feb. 21—A call for a conference between the miners and operators in Cleveland, March 2, to draw up a new wage scale program, was issued by President John Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America today.

Lewis, whose call amounts to an invitation to mine owners, asks for a committee of two operators and two miners from each state in the central coal-field to get together and form a new contract. The operators have refused to meet with officials of the United Mine Workers to draw up a contract to take the place of the one expiring March 31. The miners have threatened to strike, if the operators do not meet them.

Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania will be represented in the conference, in the event the operators accept the invitation.

According to Lewis' plan the executive officers of the United Mine Workers will also attend the Cleveland session. Telegrams were dispatched to the unions and operators. Lewis is here to attend a conference between the railroads and miners at which a coalition of the two groups proposed by Lewis will be discussed.

MOVIE CHIEFS BLAME WOES TO WALL STREET

Assert Plot Is Formed To Ruin Industry and Then Buy It

(By Thompson Buchanan, celebrated playwright. Author of "A Woman's Way") (Copyrighted 1921 by United Press) Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 21—"Is Wall street trying to steal the film industry?" "Is the mysterious murder of William D. Taylor, motion picture director, shot to death in Los Angeles, the incident that brings to the open the battle of big business for control of the world's fifth greatest industry?"

Ford and Movies These are the questions that are being asked on all sides, especially in view of the apparently spontaneous concerted attack on the industry, but skillfully managed by the flood of malicious vituperation which is sweeping the country from end to end. People who hold to this belief point to the fact that Ford and the movies are not controlled by Wall street and that the money interests have been after both. It was not until the last two years that Wall street began seriously to take an interest in the motion picture industry. The making of pictures involves an enormous outlay of money and naturally, as with many other big industries where credit enters largely into the financing, Wall street is said to be prompt to seize upon the necessity of the producers.

Planting Its Men Only a few months ago, in every department of one of the big companies representatives of "big business" were, it is said, "sent to learn the business." It is plain, they openly boasted they were about to take the whole industry over. Then came the terrific fight, and the men whose brains created the business, won the victory and regained control. All the Wall street men, who were planted in the various departments, packed their bags and went on their way. Every other company has not been so fortunate. Several large producers have gone down in battle, which is said to have been precipitated by money interests.

Working For Banks The greatest individual producer of them all whose name can easily become apparent says "What's the use, I'm working for the bankers now." One of his friends is authority for the statement that "no matter how much wealth his genius creates, he himself never will be benefitted in proportion to his efforts."

Purpose of Censorship It is being pointed out that it was in a heated campaign "for control" that the censorship agitation began. This censorship, it is said, was a plan to ruin the industry and then buy the wreck. There was no real demand for censorship, but the report said it was simply for "big business" to hire a few professional reformers, who made noise all out of ratio to their number and who created fictitious, but what seemed to be a real demand. When the chief of these reformers was placed on the stand and was asked the source of the money that financed the censorship campaign, that is, the effort to ruin the motion picture industry, he refused to answer.

Object of Control It is said that one of the real reasons for Wall street's desire to control the motion picture industry was that it recognized in the industry the most powerful force next to the newspapers and Wall street naturally desires to control popular opinion, to make sure nothing antagonistic to its interests was uttered to the people.

Blackening Movie Name The next step seemed to be to blacken the name of the people engaged in motion picture production, as to create demands on the part of the public that these people be changed. The people of Los Angeles, the bankers, business men, newspaper owners, those engaged in mercantile and industrial pursuits, who are intimately connected with the personnel and habits of those engaged in motion picture production and distribution in Hollywood, have been and are the first to defend the habits of their neighbors and denounce as an outrage this campaign of slander.

The very clergymen who once demanded censorship are now the first to defend the attitude of the motion picture industry. There have been dope parties in Hollywood, but they were staged by certain persons who are known and will be prosecuted.

Getting The Thing Tuned Up Is The Tedious Part

Harding For Delay On The Bonus Law Washington Report

By KARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 21—President Harding is strongly in favor of postponing the soldier bonus legislation until next year, it was learned on reliable authority today. The president communicated his views to a Republican senator, who called at the White House. He did not say he would veto a bonus, if the senate put it up to him, but indicated he might do so, if protest continues to reach him.

What President Harding wants to know, it is reported, is whether the opposition is to the bonus itself, or only against paying the bonus by the special taxes which the senate and house conferees originally decided upon. There was a demand by many house members today that the president indicate clearly whether he will veto the bonus measure if it comes to him with other than the sales tax revenue.

Opposition to the sales tax claimed a victory in the house today. An early report was said to have indicated that the petition started late yesterday against the sales tax was being freely signed by all state delegates.

Police Fire On Mob Refusing To Scatter One Man Shot Dead

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 21—One striker was killed and several persons wounded when the police with rioters fired into a crowd of textile workers near the Jenks Spinning company mills here.

Firing by police into a mass of strikers followed the latter's refusal to disperse from in front of the Jenks mills, on a strike order from Mayor Kenyon who personally read the riot act. Laughs and jeers greeted his order. The police were then ordered to aim their riot guns into the crowd, but the strikers still refused to move. The order to fire was given and a volley was poured into the crowd of helpless strikers.

Four workers crumpled to the ground. The cheers and laughter gave way to shrieks and shouts of terror and the throng scattered in a panic. The street was almost deserted within a minute.

THROUGH PASSENGERS ON CRANDON BRANCH?

Soo Line Said to be Planning Expansion of Service from Neenah

Reports from Neenah indicate that it will be a question of only a comparatively short time when it will be possible to board a train in cities south of Neenah and reach Crandon without change of cars.

A number of officials of the Soo line, upon a recent visit of inspection of the Wisconsin & Northern line, acquired by the Soo, are said to have authorized the statement that it is planned to operate through trains from Chicago to Crandon.

A part of the Wisconsin & Northern line is no more than a logging railroad at the present time and it is said that much work would be required on the right-of-way to put it in shape for fast passenger service. Whether this project will be undertaken in the spring was not learned.

VILLAGE BOARD NOT TO PERMIT RESORT AT LAKE

Age Of Ordinance Aimed
To Protect Summer
Beauty Spot

Ordinance licensing the construction and operation of dance halls in the corporate limits of Amherst Junction, and giving the village board right to reject or grant the privilege of building or operating a dance house at the village board Amherst Junction at a meeting today evening.

An ordinance was passed, it is said, with the express purpose of preventing the erection of a dance hall on the east shore of Lake Michigan, which is within the corporate limits of the village. Owners of lots on the shore bordering the lake most of whom reside in Amherst Junction, Amherst and Stevens Point, objected to the proposed erection of the pavilion on the ground it would spoil the spot as a place of residence for families during the summer months.

Must Secure License
The ordinance provides that any person wishing to construct and maintain a dancing hall or pavilion to be for dance purposes must first obtain a license from the village board at a cost of $25. The ordinance gives the board the power to reject the request, as it sees fit.

It also states that any person who has been convicted of violation of the prohibition laws cannot secure a license from the board, nor can he if the board judges that his character is such as would prejudice him from properly operating the hall or pavilion.

The builder of the dance hall must conform to the strict building code as laid down by the industrial commission of the state of Wisconsin. To ward the persons attending a dance there, if the construction is allowed.

The board states, in the ordinance, that the rules as laid down do not restrict in any way to dances sponsored by churches, public organizations, societies or for charitable purposes, but only for the public good.

Miss Baker's Concert

Miss M. Phena Baker, former supervisor of music at the Stevens Point State Normal school, rendered a concert that entirely pleased the nearly filled audience at the Normal auditorium Friday evening.

The concert was given under the auspices of the P. E. O. Sisterhood and the proceeds are to be used to establish an educational fund to help needy young women through school.

Miss Baker was assisted by Miss Lola Cox, accompanist. Miss Lora Miller, of the Normal faculty here took part in the program as a reader. Miss Cox is a junior in the Milwaukee State Normal school, and her part of the program was excellently done. Miss Miller's two readings, Percy Wilde's "The Finger of God" and "The Reforming of the Bridegroom," by an anonymous writer, were especially pleasing, and made the entertainment doubly enjoyable.

Miss Baker, who has many friends here who have heard her sing at various times in the past, fully came up to the expectations of the audience, and the audience expected much, because her ability and talent are recognized here.

Her voice is an unusually full contralto, round, well developed and of good range. Singing only songs which would appeal to her audience. Her program having been very carefully selected, her concert was well balanced and of the sort that "takes" well.

The group of songs especially favored by children, used in the classroom, "Big Brown Bear," "The Porcupine," and other such titles, delighted her audience and it favored her with rounds of applause.

By special request she sang the Scotch folk-song, "My Ain Folk," a song full of Scotch feeling and thought of home-land.

CARSON HOLSTEINS MAKE FINE RECORDS

Twenty-nine Cows in Rudolph Association Produce Over 10 Pounds of Fat

A report from William G. Yonkman, official tester for the Rudolph Cow Testing association, a majority of whose members live in the town of Carson, Portage county, shows that out of 390 cows tested during the month of January, 29 produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat. This is an excellent record for a community which has done little work of this kind until the past year, showing that the farmers have been using good strains and have herds of excellent quality.

The three high herds for the month were owned by Charles Imiz, William Piltz and Joseph Van DeLoop. Mr. Imiz's herd of registered Holsteins averaged 1,256 pounds of milk or 43.7 pounds of fat. Mr. Piltz has eleven registered and grade Holsteins which averaged 1,181 pounds of milk and 42.1 pounds of fat, while Mr. Van DeLoop's 13 grade Holstein cows averaged 1,037 pounds of milk or 36.6 pounds of fat.

Imiz Has High Cow
Mr. Imiz's registered Holstein cow, Iola Johnson Champion, had the high record for milk and butterfat production. She made 2,263 pounds of milk and 72.4 pounds of fat in January. Another of his cows produced 2,063 pounds of milk, making the second highest milk record in the association. The third and fourth cows are owned by Mr. Piltz, each making more than 1,500 pounds of milk, while C. Van Asten's "Rosie" was fifth in the association with 1,758 pounds of milk or 61 pounds of fat.

Many Good Records Made
The following men have cows which produced more than 40 pounds of fat in the one month: G. Van Asten, two; Joseph Van DeLoop, four; H. Van DeWetering, three; Charles Imiz, seven; Peter Hartley, two; Peter Peters, one; Anton Johnson, one; William Dorchester, two; William Piltz, six and Theo. Coeman, one.

ALLEGED LIQUOR FOUND IN ZINDA PLACE SATURDAY

Officers Raid Saloon and Proprietor Is Assessed Heavy Fine

The saloon of Anton Zinda, located in the Boyanowski building on Main street, will close its doors, following a raid on the establishment late Saturday afternoon, which resulted in Zinda's being assessed a fine of $200 and costs of $24.65 in Judge W. F. Owen's county court Monday after he had pleaded guilty to the charge of having in his possession and control intoxicating liquor.

The license to operate a saloon is automatically revoked upon the conviction of the proprietor of violating the liquor laws. The raiding officers, members of the police and sheriff's offices, found three and one-half quarts of alleged intoxicating liquor in the place.

Hidden in Ceiling
The alleged liquor was found above the ceiling of a closet in the rear of the building. One board near the wall had been removed in a dark corner of the closet, and the liquor, corked in five bottles, was found resting on the ceiling in the space made by the scantlings between the ceiling and the second story floor.

Zinda did not have the money to pay the fine in court Monday but was allowed five days' grace in which to raise it. If he fails to pay he will be sent to the county jail for four months.

Barkeeper Appeals Case
Zinda's bartender, Leo Kluck, was recently arrested on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. Kluck pleaded not guilty to the charge in county court and when tried was found guilty and fined. He made an appeal to circuit court.

THEATRE FOR RAPIDS ALMOST A CERTAINTY

Stock Subscriptions Now Total $25,000 and are Secured from Many Citizens

A modern fire-proof theater, to take the place of the Daly Opera House recently destroyed by fire, is practically assured for Wisconsin Rapids.

Stock subscriptions for the new theater have reached $25,000 and little difficulty is anticipated in securing the necessary amount. When $15,000 more is signed up all doubt of the theater being built will be removed, it is said.

The stock is being sold almost wholly in small denominations, distributing its ownership over a large number of people, and making the theater largely a community affair. The new play-house will be built on the site of the Old Daly Opera house. No plans have been drawn as its size depends upon the amount of money it is found possible to raise. A minimum cost of $50,000 has been decided upon and it is hoped to have a seating capacity of 1,000.

RUMBLE OF THUNDER HEARD ON SUNDAY
Lightning was seen and the rumble of thunder heard by "early-birds" Sunday morning who were up when for a short time, rain and wet snow fell. The rumblings were distinctly heard. Old weather superstitions say that thunder in the winter means frost six months from that date. Others say that there will be more cold weather immediately following. Today's warm weather seems to contradict this statement. Still another theory advanced is that there will be an early spring.

Smith during her stay in this city last week. Miss Baker gave a concert at the state school Friday night and rendered several hymns at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Dr. Lyman Copps of Marshfield came down Sunday afternoon to accompany his father, E. M. Copps, on a trip to Chicago. The latter goes there to consult Dr. Brown, a celebrated specialist, in regard to his eyes, which have been in poor condition for several years.

J. M. TEELING TO MANAGE IT FOR 10 YEARS

Will Spend $40,000 in Equipment and Also Take Over Jacobs House

After many weeks of negotiating with leading hotel operators from the Middle west, directors of the Stevens Point Hotel company have leased the new hotel now under construction here to John M. Teeling of Milwaukee.

A tentative lease giving Mr. Teeling the management of the hotel for a 10 year period was signed Friday afternoon and the permanent lease is now being drawn up. No announcement of the rental figure is made at this time, pending details of the final lease which remain to be worked out.

Good Rental Secured
"We have received a very satisfactory rental price for the stockholders, insuring a substantial return upon the investment, E. A. Oberweiser, president of the hotel company, told the Journal today. The directors and officers of the company, in awarding the lease to Mr. Teeling, have secured the services of a man who has devoted his life to the hotel business and who has met with marked success wherever he has been located. He is best known as former proprietor of the Miller Hotel in Milwaukee and the Lincoln hotel in Merrill.

Mr. Teeling's lease provides that he will completely furnish the hotel, purchasing equipment which is satisfactory to the board of directors of the company. The board reserves the authority to have a committee of its members accompany the lessee when his selection of equipment is made, the committee representing the company and its interests.

Jacobs for Employees
The lease further provides for Mr. Teeling taking over the present Jacobs Hotel, which he plans to conduct mainly as a home for his employees, who will number approximately 40. The Jacobs House may also be used to house guests from the new hotel at times when the new building cannot take care of all of them.

The operator acquires the barber shop which is being included in the new building, while the disposition of six other stores is retained by the company. Mr. Teeling will sub-let the barber shop privilege and the company will rent the stores, securing the revenue they provide.

$10,000 in Equipment
Mr. Teeling, in a statement to the Journal, declared that his total expenditure for equipment will approximate $40,000 and that it is his intention to make home purchases in Stevens Point wherever possible, giving preference to local firms if prices quoted are equal. He plans to negotiate within a few days with one or more local concerns for a part of his equipment.

In taking over the hotel, the operator will devote his entire time to this business, moving to Stevens Point to reside. This is the only hotel or business project in which he is now interested and he will give it his personal attention at all times. He hopes to take charge by August 1.

Long Hotel Career
Mr. Teeling has devoted his life to the hotel business. He was for 12 years proprietor of the Lincoln hotel at Merrill, afterwards operating the Clarke hotel at Hastings, Neb., for four years. He then moved to Milwaukee, where he was proprietor of the Miller hotel for three years, after that being located at Hancock, Mich., where he operated the Scott hotel for one year prior to last spring. He and his wife have since resided in Milwaukee but he has not been actively engaged in the hotel business since leaving Hancock. Directors of the local company declare that he has an enviable record in his field of work and that Stevens Point is fortunate in getting him here.

Booster for City
Mr. Teeling believes that Stevens Point is one of the best hotel centers in the middle west and in the course of his business visits here during the past two weeks has been impressed with the city and its possibilities. He already considers Stevens Point as his home city and will move here shortly from Milwaukee with his wife.

DUES TEACHERS PAY SUBJECT TO TAXES

Gross Home Bought By Arthur Kingston To Move In May 1st

The Nic Gross home at 1060 Main street, consisting of a 12-room home on a corner double lot in one of the best locations in Stevens Point, has been purchased by Arthur C. Kingston, cashier of the Citizens National bank. Mr. and Mrs. Gross agree to give possession on May 1.

The consideration, while not given out, is substantial. It testifies to the faith of Mr. Kingston, who has recently come here, in the future growth of Stevens Point. "I would not have put the amount I did into this deal if I did not feel sure that the city is going to continue to go ahead," said Mr. Kingston to the Journal.

LOCAL MEN ATTEND FAIR CONVENTION

A. E. Bourn and Paul Hussin at State Association Meeting Friday

A. E. Bourn, secretary, and Paul Hussin, superintendent of speed of the Stevens Point Fair association, spent Friday at Fond du Lac attending the convention of the Association of Wisconsin Fairs.

The schedules for the various fairs of the state were reported and gone over and Stevens Point's dates listed as August 15, 16, 17 and 18, the same dates as last year.

The members of the association took decisive action upon the question of "wheels" within the grounds of county fairs, turning down an effort to permit the use of gambling devices.

Resolutions approving the St. Lawrence to the Lakes waterway project were passed with enthusiasm and copies were ordered sent to representatives of the state in congress.

Following the suggestion of M. M. Parkinson, secretary of the Dane county fair, the 50 or more county fairs held annually in Wisconsin may adopt the "every heat a race" feature for the horse racing program this fall. Races will continue to go to the three heat limit under the plan, but each heat will carry a distribution of the prize money as arranged proportionately to a heat. Mr. Parkinson further advocated that the fair associations utilize at least 25 per cent of their gate and grandstand receipts for prize money so that higher class race events can be secured.

That concessions lost much money at county fairs last fall, but that the fairs made more money than in past years, was brought out in a discussion relative to concessions.

C. W. Harte, Watertown, one of the pioneer fair men of the state, advocated the securing of good, clean shows for the fairs in the future.

BURGLAR ALARM SOUNDED AT BANK

Woman Accidentally Touches Button and Police Respond to Call

Accidentally touching off the burglar alarm at the Wisconsin State bank on Friday evening at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Delphine Whitman, who was employed there, brought out members of the police force as well as a crowd which assembled outside the building in a few minutes.

It was necessary to gain access to the vault before the alarm could be turned off and E. B. Robertson, president of the bank, was called down town. The alarm sounded for about 15 minutes in all.

The button which Mrs. Whitman accidentally touched while at work in the building is a special attachment connecting with the vault, installed to frustrate day hold-ups. This and several other buttons distributed about the bank will set off the alarm at any time of day or night when touched. The regular burglar alarm equipment automatically shuts off from a clock in the morning and evening, the special equipment serving as an additional safeguard during banking hours. That the Wisconsin State bank is well equipped to sound an alarm in case of an emergency was demonstrated by the incident of Friday evening.

NORMOYLE PLANS BASEBALL TEAM FOR THIS CITY

Leading City Sportsmen Back Him In His Hopes to Make It Civic Club

Stevens Point is promised a baseball club the coming summer. "Tommy" Normoyle, third baseman on last year's team and player-manager toward the latter part of the season, announced Monday that he has made definite plans to go ahead with the organization of a team in Stevens Point. He also plans to push the formation of a central Wisconsin baseball league.

Normoyle says he will have the backing of Ed Hilliard, town of Dewey sportsman-farmer, who took over the Point club last year after it went financially on the rocks. Hilliard and Normoyle hope to put over a good team this summer, clean up all baseball debts in the city and make the team a paying proposition.

Civic Organization
The Stevens Point baseball team is not to be a one or two man flyer, however. Leading local sportsmen are behind Normoyle in his plans to organize a team in this city, and a public mass meeting is to be called at some time in the very near future to put the organization on a civic basis.

"Tommy" tells the Journal that he has five men for his club lined up already, six if he counts himself, for he plans to hold down the old position at third base. Frank Groh, second baseman last year until he broke his arm in a game at Westfield, says he will come back. "Al" Simmons, who is to be given a try-out with the Milwaukee Brewers this spring, says he'll come back to Stevens Point if he doesn't make good with the A. A. club, and isn't farmed out to some minor league for the season. "Pat" Snow is still in town and can be counted on to hold his old position in center field. "Bill" Gustin, now going to school at Ripon college and who finishes this spring, will come back to play short stop.

Has a Pitcher
Normoyle says he has a good pitching youngster on the string who will come to Stevens Point this spring from Chicago to work. The boy's name is Shanks, and he is now attending an Eastern college, where he has been playing ball. Shanks finishes in the spring and is willing to come up here for an outing and play ball on the side.

The formation of a four or six club league will be an easy proposition, according to indications. Wausau sportsmen are willing and even anxious to get into a league composed of Marshfield, Wisconsin Rapids, Stevens Point and the Lumberjacks, but aren't much disposed to enter a six club wheel. Marshfield stands in with the proposition and Wisconsin Rapids will come in if the Tri-Cities can get a baseball organization over. Normoyle intends to organize the local club first, and then go after the league formation in earnest.

After Colored Teams
The necessity of organizing early is pointed out by Normoyle, and he is negotiating with the Calgary Black Sox, the Union and American Giants and other first class colored organizations that tour the country. He is lining these clubs up for Sunday dates, and the league is hoped to be so organized as to permit such games.

An average tax rate of 29.2 mills applied to the cities with 26.5 mills true average when differences in the ratio of assessed to true property values were taken into consideration. This means an average per capita property tax of $29.15 on the 1,328,752 inhabitants of the communities.

Augusta in Eau Claire county has the highest property tax rate of any city in the state with 52.3 mills on assessed value and 46.7 mills on true value. West Allis in Milwaukee county has the highest per capita tax with $74.83.

Of the principal cities of the state Madison has the highest per capita tax which amounts to $60.40, while Wausau has the highest tax rate, amounting to 40 mills. Milwaukee's per capita general property tax is $43.49 with the rate 29.2 mills or 27 mills on a true valuation.

Upward The Trend In Business Affairs Says Banking Board

By PAUL R. MALLON, (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Feb. 20.—The trend of general industrial and business conditions, traced by the federal reserve board in its annual report made public today, pointed upward.

The report, recognized as the thermometer of industry, indicated that the bottom of depression had been hit. It predicts general and substantial betterments.

The salient points in this official financial report for 1921 are: Favorable industrial reaction has been manifest in banking conditions, which will relieve every industry. The success of the federal reserve business has finally proven that the system has been satisfactory. It has aided over the major industries, particularly the farmers, through the period of depression. The depression era was much worse than generally believed.

Governor Harding, reserve board head, analyzed every development retraining as much as possible from predicting the future, but the business start indicated an expected general revival.

"The report sets much life upon the unprecedented conditions with which the banking organizations of the country and more particularly the federal reserve system has had to deal," Harding stated.

"Great economic action was not reflected immediately in the operation of the system for a while, until the fall of commodity prices, which began in the case of milk in March, 1920, and extended to practically all commodities until October. Extensive loans of the reserve banks continued until early November."

100 MILE RAILROAD NORTH FROM MERRILL

Stange Lumber Company Plans Route to Timber Holdings in Vilas County

Construction of a new railroad between Merrill, Lincoln county and Star Lake, Vilas county, a distance of more than 100 miles into a new and undeveloped section of Wisconsin is planned by the Stange Lumber Company, the land commissioners at Madison have just been informed.

Before granting an application for right to cross state lands in building the new road, the commissioners requested additional information from the lumber company, concerning its exact plans. The effect of the proposed railroad on state property bordering on Star Lake is to be determined before permission is granted, the commissioners say.

The new railroad would be used by the company primarily for logging purposes, extending back into its holdings which it is estimated will not be depleted of timber for 20 years.

Henry Johnson, state treasurer, pointed out that the road would open the hitherto unsettled country to newcomers who will have an access to markets for the products they raise in developing the land bordering the new transportation system.

Mr. Johnson and the other commissioners, Attorney General Morgan and Secretary of State Hall, expressed themselves of the opinion that the road should be built through country that would not affect the utility of the state lands as summer resorts, or cause destruction of the timber of them.

No action was taken on the question of trespass or of the sale of state lands, by the land commissioners.

It was decided that no more leases would be issued to private individuals for holdings on the property bordering the lakes, until a definite leasing policy has been determined. After thorough investigation last fall the commissioners were of the opinion that the custom of granting long leases to persons should be stopped.

Man Well Known in Stevens Point Dies Following Street Accident

A telegram received in the city Saturday announced the death at Hollywood of Theo Gribi, brother-in-law of N. A. Week and Miss Martha Week of this city and well known in Stevens Point.

Mr. Gribi's death was the result of an automobile accident in which he was injured a week ago. While walking on one of the streets of Hollywood he was struck down by a car and from then until the time of his death was unconscious most of the time. Funeral ceremonies are to be held in Hollywood.

RIVER TO RUN UNDER BUILDING AT RAPIDS

Widening Program at West End of New Bridge Aids for Removing Basement

The Wisconsin river at Wisconsin Rapids is to be widened at the west end of the new bridge and in order to do this it will be made to flow under the MacKinnon building, which would otherwise have to be removed entirely.

The plans call for the removal of the basement under the east half of the building, which will be supported by steel posts and beams, creating an open space for the water to pass through.

Marathon County Tragedy Blamed To Howling Wolf

The persistent howling of a timber wolf outside his cabin in the town of Plover, Marathon county, brought death to the wolf and was the indirect cause of the death of the wolf's executioner, Otto Rupnow.

Rupnow took his shotgun, located the wolf in a wooded area across from his cabin, and killed it. On the way home the trigger caught in a barbed wire fence, causing the gun to discharge. Buckshot shattered the left side of Rupnow's face, causing instant death.

SHERIFFS CAN'T RUN AT NEXT ELECTION

Must Not Be Candidates at Same Election When Amendment May Be Ratified

Madison, Wis., Feb. 18.—Wisconsin sheriffs cannot run for re-election at the November general election, all pending constitutional amendments allowing the practice to the contrary notwithstanding.

This was the reply of Attorney General William J. Morgan today to Gad Jones, Wautoma, district attorney for Wausau county.

The constitutional amendment, passed by the 1921 legislature, is placed before the people for approval or disapproval on the official ballot in November, and provides for the repeal of that section of the state constitution which says that "sheriffs will not be eligible to run legally for re-election until two years after their term expires."

But the sheriffs cannot legally be a candidate until after the election, Morgan pointed out. So Wisconsin sheriffs will not this fall run for re-election.

MONSTER FAIR IN MID-WINTER BEING PLANNED

County Agent Clark Leads State Wide Exposition Movement

Ten representatives of agricultural organizations in the state, including County Agent W. W. Clark of this met in the office of the department markets at Madison last Thursday to form an organization to develop monster mid-winter fair at which certain products can be shown.

Mr. Clark represented the agents of the state, having been appointed to membership on the advisory board of directors by the agents present at a preliminary meeting held in Madison two weeks ago. The other directors present Thursday included representatives of the department of markets, the department of agriculture, the bureau, American Society of State Beekeepers' Association, Industrial Cooperative Union, Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association, the Wisconsin Experiment Association.

The plans contemplate the holding of a markets' exposition similar combined state potato and onion exposition which was held in Milwaukee last December, but on a larger scale and taking the place where the exposition will be held, and that it will be in early 1922.

The American Society of Equine other organizations are making other plans to hold their annual meetings in conjunction with the exposition, making it possible for them to take in several interesting shows at the same time. The original which will handle the proposition in shows will be called Wisconsin Markets Exposition, cooperative. It is to be a profit, non-stock organization with $1 membership fee and any citizen interested in the development of agriculture in Wisconsin may be a member. Articles of incorporation and by-laws were adopted at the Madison board meeting and will be immediately with the secretary of state.

To Supplement State Fair
The new show will not be a state fair but will supplement by providing an opportunity for producers and manufacturers of agricultural products to show their goods and acquaint prospective buyers with the sources of quality goods. It is expected that various counties will exhibit their specialties, including grain, dairy products, honey and other special products.

Exhibitors at the 1921 show pleased with the prospects for new markets in this way and expects for the next exposition for several times the number exhibits which were shown last year.

ADOPT HIGHER STANDARD FOR RURAL COURSE

Normal To Bar Eighth Graders Beginning With The Fall Term

Revision of the entrance requirements in the rural department of the State Normal school is expected to cause a substantial increase in the membership of the freshman class at the High school next fall. Public school authorities anticipating this condition, are already devising plans to accommodate the increased enrollment.

The Normal is raising the standard of the students it will hereafter accept in its rural department by adoption of a higher entrance requirement. The new policy will eventually exclude all students who are not high school graduates.

To Bar Eighth Graders

On account of the scarcity of teachers, the normal rural department has taken students up to this time students from eighth grades and given them an intense training for three years, equal to a four year high school course in number of hours of work. This is the course which is to be eliminated by raising the entrance requirement year by year.

Beginning next fall, students enrolling in the rural department must have completed a ninth grade education. The following year, a tenth grade education will be the requirement, the next year an eleventh grade training and finally the twelfth grade, or an education equal to the full-fledged high school graduate.

Seek Nature Students

"We want more mature students as rural school teachers and want them better trained," Prof. O. W. Neale, director of the Normal rural department, declared in explaining the change. The courses to be continued are the one and the two years courses for High school graduates. The one year course gives the student a first grade course certificate and entitles him or her to teach in any rural school for five years. The two year course, known as the diploma course, gives the graduate a life certificate. This is made especially attractive by the state bonus feature which makes special remuneration awards after the first year of teaching.

To Elevate Standard

With the new and higher entrance requirements the rural department will get more mature people for training as teachers, elevating the standard of the rural school instructor. "We contend that the country school is entitled to as well trained and well qualified teachers as the city school," Mr. Neale said. "With better teachers consolidation must come and this is the solution of the whole rural problem. When we get consolidation we can get the best teachers and pay them better salaries and then the country boys and girls will have equal opportunities with the city boys and girls."

Will Go to High School

First year students in the rural department at the Normal number 30 this year. While it is impossible to ascertain whether a corresponding number will be turned away next year because of the ninth grade entrance condition, it is believed they will nearly approach that number. There is reason to believe that they will then enroll as freshmen in the local High school.

NEW MANAGER FOR BRADLEY INTERESTS

Z. M. Holmes of Peoria, Ill., recently elected manager of the Bradley interests in the Portage county drainage district, is spending a few days attending to business matters in this city and looking after the Bradley holdings in the towns of Glover and Grant.

Mr. Holmes succeeds T. M. Otrich of this city, who resigned several weeks ago and will in future devote his entire attention to the Otrich-Shropshire Company, engineers and builders.

Beginning early next spring, the new manager expects to devote a large part of his time to further development work in the district south of here and supervise the sowing of many acres of table beet seed. A large acreage of sugar beets will also be sown next season, but special attention will be given to the table variety, which is peculiarly well adapted for that soil. Good crops of both were harvested last fall.

FIRE DAMAGES FORMER CITY HALL AT WAUSAU

The old city hall building at Wausau, now used as a branch factory by the Marathon shoe company, was the scene of a fire Saturday morning which resulted in damage to the roof and to the material and finished products of the company, estimated at from $25,000 to $50,000. The damage is covered by insurance. The city of Wausau, owner of the building, carried insurance of $4,500.

MRS. GUSTIN EXPIRES

Funeral of Former Linwood Woman Held at Wisconsin Rapids

Mrs. John H. Ryan, Mrs. D. J. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fordon of this city, Miss Doris Bernier and Miss Lucile Callows of Linwood were at Wisconsin Rapids Wednesday, going there to attend the funeral of Miss Callows' sister, Mrs. Alfred Gustin, held at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

Mrs. Gustin was a daughter of the late George Callows, a pioneer of Linwood town. She died from tuberculosis trouble after an illness of several months. Her passing away is doubly sad because of her leaving three small children, aged from five to two years. Walter Callows, a brother, lives at Waunakee and another brother, Carl Callows, occupies the Linwood homestead. There are also five sisters, four of whom are married. Mrs. Gustin was about 26 years of age.

VEHICLES WITHOUT LIGHTS IN DANGER

Legislation Proposed as a Safe Guard to Farmers Driving at Night

"The sound reason has ever been advanced to show that horse-drawn vehicles should not carry lights at night as well as motor-driven vehicles," says "Good Roads," published at Madison. "It is in the interest of the owner of a horse-drawn vehicle to carry a light to prevent accident. On occasions when the matter has been broached in the legislature the objection has been raised that the farmer would be opposed to it. We cannot believe that he would, as such legislation would be in his own interest. There is just as much reason why a farmer should carry a light on his wagon as that he should carry one on his automobile. Inevitably a law providing for this protection will be passed."

John Hoeveler, electrical engineer of the Wisconsin Industrial commission, makes an appeal to the drivers of horse-drawn vehicles to carry a marker light on their vehicles for protection. Commenting on the present condition, Mr. Hoeveler says:

"The farmer is in serious danger on the country roads at night. While the state head light law requires the automobilist to have such lights as will enable him to distinguish a person or other substantial object 200 feet ahead, it is a common practice to drive so fast that even though the headlights pick up the course of the horse and buggy at this distance it is not possible to avoid collision."

"The fact that the automobilist may violate both the headlight and the speed laws," says Mr. Hoeveler, "may enable the driver of the horse-drawn vehicle to recover damages, but will not protect him from serious injury. It is clearly in his interests to safeguard himself. This can best be done by placing a light on the left side of the buggy, visible both from the front and the rear. Such a light will warn the automobilist more than 1,000 feet away on a straight level road where the speeding is usually done, and will enable him to know how much clearance he must allow to safely pass the horse and buggy. The best possible arrangement would be to have a white light in front and a red light in the rear, but a white light to the left will, in most cases, afford protection."

FEW BIDS RECEIVED IN COUNTY FARM SALE

Stock and One of the Buildings Are Disposed of at Amherst Junction

The public sale held at the county farm near Amherst Junction last week to dispose of property on the place for which the county no longer has use, resulted in the sale of four head of cattle and one of the buildings.

John Keener, Amherst, secured the stock for $180. He got one three-year-old pure bred Holstein bull, one year-old pure bred Holstein heifer, and two seven-months-old pure bred Holstein heifers.

John Domach, now renting the county farm, bought the hay barn situated on land which the county sold to the Soo line railroad, for $600. He will move it off the Soo line land onto the county property.

The attendance at the sale numbered between 50 and 60 persons, but bids were small and few in number. The county board of supervisors committee on the county farm, M. J. Mersch, Richard Wilson and Felix Lukasavitz, was in attendance and conducted the sale.

It is planned to hold either a sale or auction in April to dispose of the farm machinery, and it is thought that at this time the remaining buildings and 25,000 second hand brick can be disposed of.

LAST MINUTE RALLY BEATS POINT CAGERS

Platteville Battles On Short End Of Score Until Near The Finish

Coming from behind in the final minutes of play after trailing the Point Normal basketball team during the entire game, the Platteville Normal cagers won Saturday night at the Normal gymnasium by a score of 23 to 20.

Stevens Point had a slight edge on the visiting team and was on top at the end of the first half by a score of 11 to 9. The locals, however, could not draw away from their opponents by more than one basket and when Platteville's forwards got the range toward the close of the game failed to stem the tide of battle.

McCarrr Tops Scoring

Eddie McCarrr, Point right forward, and Dennis, Platteville center, topped the scoring with five field baskets each. McCarrr, however, scored four free throws also, and took the individual scoring record.

The battle started out swiftly, the local team battling ahead of Platteville by the slim margin of one point until toward the close of the initial period when the score was tied. A final basket before the gun closed the half gave the Point the one-basket lead.

The game seemed to belong to Stevens Point until Platteville tied the count 19 all with but a few minutes of time left. A free throw by McCarrr gave the locals a one-point edge that failed to hold. Two baskets from the field in close succession by Platteville, while the Stevens Pointers battled hard to break through the visitors' defense, won the game.

Play Not Polished

Neither team showed polished play. Strong defense of both aggregations kept scoring from short distances impossible. Leslie Bourn, Stevens Point forward and center played a swift game but had hard luck in basket shooting.

WAUTOMA BEATS POINT QUINTET 22 TO 13 SCORE

Locals Unable to Overcome Big Lead Gained in the First Half

A lead which the Wautoma High School basketball team gained in the first half of the Stevens Point-Wautoma battle at Wautoma Friday night, won for the home team, 22 to 13.

The Stevens Point team went into action at Wautoma without having had a good practice during the entire week. Captain Fred Vaughn and Virgil Herrick, Point forward and center respectively, had been ill during most of the previous week, and the lack of practice was apparent early in the contest.

Played Listless Game
The Point team played a listless game in the first frame, during which Wautoma broke away to a long lead. The score when the whistle terminated the half was 13 to 3. Stevens Point outplayed and outscored the home team in the last half, but was unable to overcome the heavy handicap. The Pointers secured five field goals in the second half to Wautoma's four.

The Wautoma team was in good form, and the opposition the Stevens Point five went up against was stiff.

Gets Three Baskets
Van Hecke, who started at running guard for Stevens Point and was later shifted to forward, led in the scoring for the local team with three field baskets. Herrick, center, dropped two field goals and one free throw and Vaughn secured one field goal.

Vrobel and Vaughn started at forwards, with Herrick at center and Van Hecke and Krembs at guards. Siebert was later put in Van Hecke's place at guard and Van Hecke went to Vrobel's forward position. Swan later in the game was substituted for Siebert. Emmie Ripon, was referee.

GETS GOOD REPORT FROM MAYO DOCTORS

J. J. Nelson of Amherst an Exceptional Man For His Age, Examination Shows

Hon. J. J. Nelson returned to his home in Amherst Saturday night from Rochester, Minn., where he spent a week and underwent a thorough physical examination by members of the Mayo hospital staff.

Mr. Nelson for the past 12 years has been troubled with an affection of his left leg, which has been diagnosed as phlebitis, an infection of the venous system. At intervals during this period he has been subject to severe attacks of the malady, and he finally determined to go to Rochester to ascertain if there was any prospect of obtaining permanent relief.

As a result of the examinations Mr. Nelson was told that nothing in the way of an operation could benefit him, but that there was nothing dangerous about his condition. In the words of Dr. Charles Mayo, Mr. Nelson is "100 per cent fit for a man 70 years old," with the exception of the trouble in his leg and impaired vision incident to his age.

George B. Nelson of Stevens Point is a son of J. J. Nelson.
